Why choose Newcastle University London

ABOUT US

Newcastle University has a proud tradition of academic excellence, spanning more than 180 years. Our presence in London brings world-class research and teaching of business, finance and commerce to one of the world's major cities.

World-class research and teaching

Bringing the best of Newcastle University to the capital. We're part of the Russell Group of research-intensive universities and have a global reputation for academic excellence and are ranked in the top 150 of the world's best universities (QS World University Rankings 2020).

Teaching excellence

We're proud of our TEF Gold award in the latest Teaching Excellence Framework 2017, demonstrating consistently outstanding teaching, learning and student outcomes.

International outlook

Our international outlook, combined with our global reputation for academic excellence, means we're a first-choice destination for students from around the world.

Industry focused

Begin your career well connected. With an industry-immersive approach to teaching and learning, we're focused on providing students with the practical skills needed to become global business leaders of the future.

Real business projects

Nothing makes a CV shine like real industry experience. That's why our students undertake business projects in real-life environments, gaining a valuable insight into the world of work.

Work experience opportunities

All of our students are able to apply for work placements. It's a great opportunity to gain first-hand business experience, hone your skills, and make career-boosting connections.

Masterclass series

We host masterclass speaker sessions throughout the year. Hear from leaders of industry and find out the secrets of their success. Always inspiring, always free to attend.

Our London location

We're located next to the Square Mile, where three quarters of US Fortune 500 companies have offices. Meanwhile, Shoreditch – one of London's most distinctive and culturally creative areas – is only a few minutes away.

Friendly community in a big city

We bring the warm, friendly and supportive community of Newcastle University to the capital. We believe in a personal education and our smaller than average class size enables you to foster stronger working relationships with lecturers and fellow classmates.

Quality Assurance

Our London degrees have been designed by Newcastle University Business School which holds triple accreditation, placing it in the top 1% of Business schools worldwide*, so you can be confident in your decision to study with us.

* Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business, Association of MBAs and European Quality Improvement System.

London
location

EXPLORE LONDON

London is one of the most inspiring places to live and learn and our location in the heart of the city means all the major attractions are either within walking distance, or just a few tube stops away. We are a five-minute walk from Liverpool Street Station in Zone 1, a major transport hub for tube, rail and bus services taking you quickly and easily across the capital.

Britain's business and industry hub

London is home to most FTSE 100-listed companies and the world's biggest Fortune 500 companies – which makes it the perfect location for aspiring business students.

The green capital

London is one of the greenest capitals in the world with more than 3,000 parks and open spaces. Check out the panoramic views from Primrose Hill, or relax with a trendy crowd on London Fields or Victoria Park.

Art and culture

Explore world-famous museums and galleries for free! Must-sees include Tate Modern, the British Museum, the National Portrait Gallery and the Science Museum. Stand face-to-face with a T-Rex at the Natural History Museum, or see the best new contemporary art at the Saatchi Gallery.

Theatre and music

Experience authentic Shakespearean plays at the Globe Theatre, or take in the big name shows in the West End. Be part of the Proms at The Royal Albert Hall, support up-and-coming acts in local bars, or listen to jazz at Ronnie Scott's. There's truly something for everyone!

Shopping

In London there are shopping options to suit every taste and budget. Oxford Street and the Westfield Shopping Centres are great for high street buys, while exclusive stores like Harrods, Liberty, Selfridges and Harvey Nichols are all right on the doorstep. For vintage finds head to Brick Lane and Camden Market. The famous Bicester Village designer outlet is also less than an hour by train from Paddington station.

Food and drink

Love eating out? You'll love London. From quirky pop-ups and street food to Michelin star restaurants, the cuisine is as diverse as the people who call London home. You really can eat your way around the globe. The list is never ending and with student discounts available at many restaurants there's no excuse not to indulge.

Transport hub

Newcastle University London has excellent transport links nearby and its central location provides the perfect opportunity to explore London, the UK and beyond.

Exploring further afield

At the weekend it's easy to explore other parts of the UK, with Oxford, Cambridge and the seaside towns of the south coast like Brighton just an hour away by train. The East Coast mainline train service from King's Cross makes the towns of York, Newcastle and Edinburgh easily accessible with their fast and frequent service. You can also visit other European cities including Paris, Brussels and Lille from the Eurostar terminal at St Pancras International. As you would expect from a global city like London, major international airports like Heathrow and Gatwick are also within easy reach.

Your Career

CAREER CONNECTIONS

From our base in one of the world's top financial centres, students benefit from regular exposure to the strong appeal of global business coupled with our Russell Group education.

We're here to support you in becoming a business leader of the future. This starts with strong academic foundations, and builds through regular exposure to the real business world. Taking advantage of our location on the edge of London's financial district, we work with industry to help you develop an enviable skill-set, and the knowledge base top employers demand.

First-rate facilities

You'll work towards your degree in a modern, high-quality learning environment. It's a great space, designed to help you focus on achieving your full potential. You'll have access to study pods for quiet learning, multi-purpose lecture theatres and seminar rooms complete with interactive whiteboards. These flexible spaces support lectures, practical sessions, seminars and tutorials. You'll also benefit from high-quality IT and e-learning resources, as well as Bloomberg terminals to give you hands-on practical experience of financial trading.

The Learning Resource Centre

Our well-equipped Learning Resource Centre is the place to go for all your learning materials. You'll also have access to Newcastle University's wealth of online learning resources, including over six million ebooks and electronic journals. Best of all, our experienced and friendly team are on hand to help you make the most of the resources available.

Master's suite for postgraduate students

The master's suite is a dedicated area for postgraduate students to complete assignments and unwind in between lectures. It's a pleasant, quiet, independent study space, with IT facilities.

Why is a business-immersive education so important?

Top global employers demand more than a theoretical knowledge of business. So to compete in a challenging graduate employment market, you'll need to stand out. We combine academic theory with opportunities to build practical business skills.

This combined approach to teaching and learning enables you to:

- build your professional network
- gain real-life business experience
- benefit from the advice of business leaders who have reached the top of their respective professions
- put classroom theory into practice

We also provide a range of opportunities to engage directly with industry as part of your study experience, including:

- real-life business projects and case study analysis
- professional masterclass series and public debates
- networking with alumni based in the capital
- undertaking a work placement with a leading organisation

A sample of our industry connections:

CAREERS SUPPORT

As a world top 150 university*, we inspire the minds of thousands of students. Our outstanding reputation for academic excellence and high graduate employability ensures we are a first-choice destination for students from around the world.

Careers Service

Newcastle University's Careers Service is multi-award winning. The team offers advice and support for students seeking a graduate career or starting a business. Dedicated staff will help you plan your career, market your skills, build contacts and find jobs.

Masterclasses

Business executives give free masterclass talks to our students. Previous speakers have included the Head of Luxury and Fashion at the London Evening Standard, the former CEO of Granada Group, and the director of Daytime and Lifestyle at ITV Content. Use the sessions as an opportunity to find out the secrets of their success!

Work placements and internships

Supplement your studies and gain invaluable real-world experience by taking part in an exciting range of CV-enhancing placements. Our dedicated Placements Officer can support you in finding a placement.

Entrepreneur support

If you have a business idea, our careers service can support you on your entrepreneurship journey. Many Newcastle University students and graduates turn their business ideas into reality, including gin brand NOVELTEA, which is now expanding trading to take their product to the global market.

Business-focused degrees

A number of business leaders sit on our Advisory Board to make sure our strategic direction – and the courses we offer – are perfectly aligned with the needs and ambitions of the global business community.

Industry guest lectures

Lectures and seminars include presentations from leading industry figures.

Practical projects

Throughout your studies, you'll enjoy opportunities to develop and improve your management, strategic and decision-making skills. Activities include:

Group projects – A great way to showcase skills, such as time management, team working, budgeting, presentation and leadership skills, as you put theory to work in a small team. Past student projects have included live product development, real business simulations and sales challenge at Spitalfields Market.

Individual assignments – A chance to let your personal abilities really shine. Working on practical projects, previous students have, for example, written case studies on organisations such as Marco Pierre White and Zaha Hadid Architects.

Alumni events

Many Newcastle University graduates now have senior roles across London. We hold networking events and welcome successful professionals to meet our current students.

*QS World University Rankings 2020

'The Spitalfields Market challenge was a good opportunity for us to put our theoretical knowledge into practice and demonstrate our ability to work as a team. On top of that it was a lot of fun!'

Supporting you

STUDENT SUPPORT

Dedicated services to help you make the most of your education.

We offer a full suite of support services to help you take control of your education and make the most of your university experience.

Student Support Teams

Throughout the year, our friendly Student Support Teams are on-hand to provide help and advice on all aspects of student life. This includes academic support, student welfare, accommodation and finance, as well as visa and immigration advice for international students.

Every new student is assigned a personal tutor – a member of the academic team you can talk to about how your studies are progressing. Turn to them for practical advice and guidance on issues such as preparing for exams, skills development and career direction. If you're feeling stressed or worried they can help you balance your study and personal life too, working in partnership with our student support and welfare teams.

Student welfare

If you'd prefer to talk in complete confidence, you can book an appointment with a welfare adviser to discuss any concerns or issues.

A diverse and welcoming city

Students of multiple nationalities and courses study under one roof at Newcastle University London, so you'll have the chance to make friends from all over the world.

London is also a modern cosmopolitan city with a diverse population of all faiths, served by a comprehensive range of places of worship.

Local resources

Living in London gives you convenient access to a range of library and sporting facilities including:

- Bishopsgate Institute, The Barbican Library and The British Library.
- Sports clubs catering for everything from football to dodgeball.

Support for international students

We provide a range of services especially for international students to ensure you feel supported as soon as you join us.

Meeting us

Our recruitment staff travel the world to meet new students and answer your questions about studying here. We also work with education agents and partners who can support you through the application process. Check our latest travel schedule at www.ncl.ac.uk/london/events/meet-us

Immigration and visa support

Students from outside the UK or EU will normally have to apply for a study visa under the Tier 4 points-based immigration system. To find out whether you need a visa, visit www.gov.uk/check-uk-visa for the latest information. We also have a dedicated Visa Team which provides advice and guidance on securing a visa before you arrive and support for immigration issues while you're here. www.ncl.ac.uk/london/international/visa

International welcome

Our international welcome provides opportunities to make friends, meet staff and settle in to the university and city. We also provide an airport pick up service and assistance with essential tasks such as opening a bank account and registering with a doctor.

English language support

If you are not a native English speaker, we'll normally ask you to take a short English Language Assessment (UELA) when you arrive. This is a way for us to identify any additional language support you might need. Our in-session language modules are all free and include academic reading, writing, listening and speaking to help you develop your academic skills. There are also opportunities for one-to-one tutorials.

If you don't meet our English language requirements for direct entry just yet, check out the range of international pathway and English language courses available in London via our education partner INTO on page 35.

Your experience goes beyond the classroom

SOCIAL LIFE

As well as gaining a first-class education, you'll meet great people and make amazing memories.

Your London guide

Before you join us, you'll receive a Newcastle University London Students' Union (NUSU) 'Connections Survey'. This is an opportunity to tell us a little more about yourself and your interests and we'll recommend activities to help you make the most of your free time in London. The survey also matches you with other students with similar interests. It's a great way to make new friends before term even starts, so when you arrive and meet face-to-face you'll feel more at home from day one.

Induction week

Your first term starts with a social programme. There are no lectures, just lots of fun events to help you connect with other students. These activities typically include:

- Fresher's Fair and informal 'meet and greet' with academics
- Tours and local area activities to help you make the most of our fantastic location
- Evening socials in local restaurants, bars and clubs
- Activities specifically for international students to help you settle into life in a new country and city

Newcastle University London Students' Union

Newcastle University London Students' Union is here to help you connect with fellow students outside the classroom. Make the most of your student experience, keep up your old hobbies and interests and explore new ones. Whether you are into squash or sumo, cricket or curling, the Union is your link to a wide range of activities in one of the world's most exciting cities.

Clubs and societies

There are a range of clubs and societies here at Newcastle University London. The Entrepreneur Society is one of the biggest and most active, working with organisations such as Reload Greece that support students to develop their business idea and gain potential funding. If your passion isn't represented by the clubs already set-up, why not become a pioneer and start your own society? It's a great way to make friends and enhance your CV.

University of London Students Central

You'll have the opportunity to become a member of Student Central. This is a Students' Union for students across the 27 institutions that make up the University of London. Membership gives you access to a range of societies, sports and events, and allows you to connect with the wider London student population. For more information, visit www.studentcentral.london

Charity and volunteering

Helping worthy causes is a great way to make friends, connect with the wider community and boost your CV. The Students' Union will help you find volunteering opportunities such as student mentoring, or fundraising for charities like Providence Row, an innovative local charity that works to prevent and reduce homelessness, here in the East End of London.

On your doorstep

Although our academic community is friendly and welcoming, you'll want to make the most of our local area too. Multicultural Whitechapel is home to markets, galleries and contemporary exhibitions, while Spitalfields Market and the fiery flavours and buzzing bars of Brick Lane are just around the corner. Wherever you go, you'll stumble across up-and-coming fashion boutiques, independent art galleries and mouthwatering food markets – every study break is a mini-adventure.

Sport and fitness

If you enjoy sport, or would like to get more active, you'll love living in London. From waterpolo, football, rugby, baseball and dodgeball, you can access some of the greatest sports clubs in the country. London was host to the 2012 Olympic Games, and the Queen Elizabeth Olympic park is just three tube stops from campus!

If you fancy something sporty right on our doorstep, join the football club and play on the 5-a-side pitches in Shoreditch. Closer still there's a private-provider gym right next door.

A place to call home

ACCOMMODATION

We offer a range of safe, high-quality accommodation to suit every lifestyle.

Choose from a variety of options, including residences within easy reach of the university, carefully selected homestay accommodation or privately let accommodation.

Scape East – Mile End

Less than two miles from university
From £300 per week for a studio*

This premium self-catering student residence is in the heart of the East End. Live alongside international and UK students in a sleek, self-contained studio of your own. These smart flatlets are carefully designed with space-saving storage, large windows to let in natural light, a luxurious en-suite bathroom with an oversized power shower, plus your own integrated kitchen. Communal areas and organised activities make it easy to make friends, while individual bedrooms guarantee privacy when studying.

The Craft Building

Less than one mile from university
From £240 per week for a classic en-suite*

This refurbished building is two-minutes' walk from Brick Lane and very close to Spitalfields Market – it's our top choice if you want quirky shopping, great eats and endless entertainment right on your doorstep. Transport-wise, Aldgate East and Whitechapel underground stations are just minutes away. Rooms are of a high standard and offer the choice of either premium en-suite or classic en-suite, arranged in friendly clusters of eight, with generous and well-equipped shared kitchens.

Homestay

Various locations
Average price from £235 per week*

An environment more like the family home, options range from half-board (breakfast and evening meal) to self-catering, with locations throughout London. Students live with their host, sharing mealtimes and all the other normal amenities, like bathrooms and laundry facilities.

Private student accommodation

A student house-share can be a great option. These carefully selected homes-from-home are shared with other students from Newcastle University London. You'll have your own private bedroom, but will share communal spaces like the kitchen, bathroom and lounge.

For further information and the most up-to-date prices, visit www.ncl.ac.uk/london/student-life/accommodation or contact newcastlelondon@ncl.ac.uk

*Prices are for guidance only and are based on costs for 2019–20, and will vary depending on programme of study. Prices for 2020–21 will be updated online once released. For those studying Academic English or Pre-sessional English, fees may be substantially lower than those quoted above.

Newcastle University London aims to provide the accommodation requested. However, there may be occasions when Newcastle University London is unable to provide the requested accommodation and reserves the right to offer an alternative type of accommodation instead. The price for any alternative accommodation may differ and will be confirmed to students at the time of their offer.

Investing in your future

FUNDING AND FINANCE

A degree from Newcastle University London is a sound investment. To help finance your studies, we offer a range of scholarships and some students can also apply for government loans.

WORKING WITH SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES

Our work with schools and colleges in and around London and the South East aims to provide students with high-quality information, advice and events so that they can begin to make informed decisions about studying at university. Here at Newcastle University London, we're committed to raising aspirations and widening participation.

Workshop activities

Collaborating with teachers, students and graduates we continue to develop a range of informative and interactive workshops which can be delivered directly in schools, or here at our campus in London. These workshops aim to increase awareness of higher education, give students vital skills and knowledge about their university options and raise aspirations.

Our workshops reflect the industry-immersive degrees we offer here in London and are aimed at students considering a business-related degree at university. Example activities include interactive presentations about how we support entrepreneurial students, to fun and inclusive workshops which get students thinking about what it means to set up a business. We also offer sessions on working across cultures, an introduction to the world of finance, and accounting and marketing masterclasses. We can also offer workshops on the applications process, student finance, and university life.

These activities are usually run by our own students and graduates who are able to offer a fresh, realistic and unique insight into university life. To speak to us about any of these activities, get in touch at: outreachlondon@ncl.ac.uk

In addition to the workshops run by our London team, Newcastle University also offers established access support schemes for those students who have the talent and ambition for university study, but who may face additional challenges in taking the next step on their university journey.

Realising opportunities

Newcastle University leads this award-winning scheme which aims to encourage talented students from across the UK to apply to university. Find out more at: www.realisingopportunities.ac.uk

PARTNERS Programme – our supported entry route

PARTNERS is our University access programme and is open to all eligible students in the UK. It includes a programme of support which will help you to develop essential skills and prepare you for university.

Applicants receive a PARTNERS offer which could be up to three grades lower than the standard offer and includes taking part in an academic summer school.

With our support, over 4,500 students have successfully entered the University who might otherwise not have done.

Academic English

This programme focuses on academic English and the study skills you need to succeed on your pre-university academic programme or university degree.

About the programme

This intensive English programme will develop your English language and academic study skills, as well as enhance your research and academic presentation abilities. The programme is delivered via a blend of face-to-face classes, where you will be among a supportive learning community, and online learning.

With multiple start dates and different durations of study, the course has the flexibility to cater for students with differing language abilities.

The 16 week course is designed for students who need to increase their overall IELTS score by 1.0 but need to increase their level in two or more sub-skills. The course feeds into the January intake.

Visa requirements

If you are applying for a Student Tier 4 visa you must have an IELTS for UKVI to apply for your visa. If you have any questions about this test, please email newcastlelondon@ncl.ac.uk.

Pre-sessional English

A short and intensive preparation in academic English for academically qualified international students who are due to start an undergraduate or postgraduate degree at Newcastle University London in September 2020.

About the programme

On this programme you will learn with students studying the same, or similar subjects at university with a focus on content-specific vocabulary, grammar, style and structure. You will attend lectures from specialists on topics relevant to your future studies, and practise speaking English on topics related to your degree programme. This will enable you to adapt to living and studying in the UK prior to beginning your degree studies.

For Pre-sessional prices visit: www.ncl.ac.uk/london

Newcastle University London English Language Policy

In line with UK Government (the Home Office) regulations, all students seeking admission to Newcastle University London must be competent in English Language. For qualifications at NQF level 6 (degree level) or above this must be at a minimum of level B2 on the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR) in each of the four components of language learning (reading, writing, speaking and listening). IELTS 5.5 is deemed to demonstrate B2 level competence.

Under no circumstances will a student with an overall level of English Language below IELTS 5.5 or with a reading, writing, speaking or listening score below IELTS 5.5, be given admission to a full degree programme at Newcastle University London.

Disclaimer

Although great care is taken in compiling this Student Course Guide, it is for the general guidance of prospective students only. This publication is intended for those who are interested in applying for admission to the university in 2020–21 academic year and is intended as advance publicity for information and guidance purposes only. Details are correct at the time of going to press in August 2019. The most up-to-date and detailed source of information at any time is the website at: www.ncl.ac.uk/london

The matters covered by this publication are subject to change from time to time, both before and after a candidate's admission. Unavoidable changes may on occasion have to be made, affecting the availability of degree programmes, subjects, modules and options within degree programmes, and of additional opportunities such as placements. Reasons for change could be timetabling issues, changes in staff, requirements of programme-accrediting bodies, to reflect academic changes within subject areas, or due to minimum student numbers on a course.

Full details of the University's terms and conditions, including references to all relevant policies, procedures, regulations and information provision are available at:

Tuition fees: For information on tuition fees see page 21.

For the latest fee information and to check the fees for your intended year of entry, please review the website at: www.ncl.ac.uk/london.

Please see clause 36 of the terms and conditions at www.intostudy.com/newcastle-london/terms for further details of programme-related fees for university preparation programmes.

Accommodation: Students on programmes of study lasting more than one year should be aware that accommodation fees are subject to an annual revision and typically increase by up to 5% per annum. Accommodation fees are set by the provider. We give students as much notice as possible of any increases.

The block accommodation fees quoted on page 19 do not include the cost of meal plans, which are available on a half board basis. Please see www.ncl.ac.uk/london/student-life/accommodation for the most up-to-date costs.

Accommodation – English language courses: The fees for both residential and homestay accommodation cover tuition periods only. If your course or study plan spans a vacation period, the accommodation must be paid for during the vacation period as well. Homestay accommodation is only available during vacations by special request and is not guaranteed. A supplement may be payable over the two week Christmas period. If you wish to leave your belongings with the host family during a vacation period, the full weekly amount will be payable. Please see the terms and conditions at: www.intostudy.com/newcastle-london/terms

Equal opportunities

The University's Equality Scheme is our public declaration of our commitment to develop a fully inclusive University community, which recruits and retains talented staff and students from all sectors of society equally. www.ncl.ac.uk/diversity

Uniplan Insurance

Uniplan Insurance is a comprehensive insurance policy prepared specially for international students in the UK to cover loss of personal possessions as well as travel, health and medical claims.

Full travel, health and medical insurance is mandatory for all international students studying any programme at Newcastle University London and for European students studying a university preparation or English language course. Uniplan insurance will automatically be added to your programme fees unless you show that a suitable alternative cover has been provided. We strongly recommend however that all students have insurance. Please contact newcastlelondon@ncl.ac.uk for further information about suitable insurance packages.
