School Overview

Before students set foot in Nottingham Trent University, through to the moment they become an NTU graduate and start their first job, the university is making sure nothing holds students back from achieving remarkable things. It starts from the beginning with the universities outreach into local schools, encouraging 30,000 students each year to dream big and achieve academic success. They help students stay motivated and on track using their student dashboard. They also provide gold-standard teaching, and through their links with industries they create opportunities for volunteering, studying abroad, and work experience with every course.
